PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL: “...Again Masters of Our Destiny”

NEWCASTLE, England, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, on an inspection tour of the Tyne, declared today that “we have passed through the darkest and most perilous days of this struggle and are now masters of our own destiny.”

In a brief speech, Mr. Churchill said in reference to the eastern front, “the Russians are struggling and battling vigorously, with results which are particularly significant.”

He added that on the other side of the Atlantic “we find ourselves struggling to see that we get all we need, and we find ourselves in a goodly company.”

Britain is moving and looking forward, “however long the road,” he said.

Referring to the reactivation of Prussian militarism “in the new and more hideous guise of Nazi tyranny,” he said.

Candidates Receive Fair Reception On South Side

“Gigantic Effort” Fry, Campbell Deal

With Cost-Of-Living Bonus, Civic Utilities

Cost-of-living bonus for civic employees must be given “sympathetic consideration” by the next city council, Mayor John W. Fry, campaigning for re-election for a fifth term, as an independent, told a meeting at the Seena Assembly hall, White Avenue, Thursday night.

Ald. George A. Campbell, running in opposition to the mayor, whom he has replaced as the Citizens' Committee candidate, devoted his address to the civic utilities, contending that surpluses should be used to reduce the tax rate as the ratepayers' property had been pledged to finance the building of these city-owned services.

Leningrad Siege May Be Relieved

By Canadian Plan

A plashing Russian counter-offensive was reported, throwing the Germans back in two sectors northwest of Moscow late today. While other good news for the anti-Axis cause was reflected in Stalin's declaration that “Germany is bleeding, to death, in facing disaster.”

Informed sources in London said the Russian counter-offensive was gathering momentum in the Volokolamsk sector, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, and might soon compel the German Leningrad communications to retreat the siege of Leningrad.

In the other northwest sector, about 100 miles from Leningrad, Soviet Red army mechanized units were reported to be smashing hard at Nazi forward positions. Kalinin, the scene of bloody street fighting, seemed due to the main rail line between Moscow and Leningrad.

Bracken Unable To Take Duties Of Tory Leadership

Sets Precedent

By R. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Senator Bracken, leader of the Conservative executive meeting early this afternoon, indicated that George A. Drew, Toronto's choice for national Conservative leader, had overruled the delegates' stirring denunciation of attempts to decide the leadership at this stage.

Mr. Drew challenged the right of the meeting to even consider the leadership question, and urged that it confine its decision to the question for which it was called, namely, to select a date and place for a general open convention which will decide the leadership and platform.

This move by Mr. Drew was seen to mean that the inter-lack has developed against the draft-Melton factor who hoped to establish Senator Melton in the House of Commons again as opposition leader.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—The second Bracken boom in the Conservative leadership collapsed today, apparently torpedoed by the Manitoba premier himself before the federal executive meeting of the party set under way.

Delegates from all parts of Canada registered and filed into the general railway committee room of the parliament building this morning, slipped to talk in the corridors and finally when all had entered what will be a closed meeting, heard Senator Arthur Meighen, party leader in the Senate, Hon. R. B. Hanson, party leader in the Commons, and Gordon Graydon, national organizer, make speeches at the preliminary observation. Presumably the meeting to last all day, ending on Saturday.

DRIVE FOR MEIGHEN
The drive for Meighen as temporary leader in the house was temporarily postponed, as the speaker quickly discounted the Bracken boom, which was the pre-convention speculation yesterday. Presumably were busy writing off the likelihood of Premier Meighen's assuming the Conservative leadership which yesterday the idea of drafting Bracken spread like a prairie fire among arriving delegates. It was obvious that it had been a great surprise to the rank and file of Conservatives, although trial balloons had been floated in certain small Conservative papers as long as two weeks ago.

It was freely predicted, as the meeting started, that Meighen would be taken on the leadership, but the delegates were far from a united front in the purpose of this session, which is to decide whether or not a general convention will be held and when. The decision on this point is to be that the delegates will meet next June in Winnipeg, returning to the city where the convention will be held.

Meeting Largest So Far

The meeting was the largest in attendance so far in the campaign, being attended by some 70 South Side residents. Candidates were subjected to considerable questioning from the audience, although they were not heckled during their speeches. Chairman was “Jimmy” Smith.

Meetings will be held tonight at the Memorial hall and the Alberta Avenue Community hall.

Finland's War Against Russia Is Nearing End

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(CP)—A radio Helsinki broadcast today charged Britain and the United States with trying to “whittle down” the Soviet Union and indicated at least temporary rejection of peace proposals.

HELSINKI, Finland, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Finnish radio has circulated abroad an important statement of aims which says Finland's war with Russia will be ended “as soon as the threat of renewed attack has been removed and her frontiers made inviolable.”

A broadcast implied that Finland would quit fighting once that aim was achieved, leaving to a peace conference of the dominant powers sometime in the indefinite future the question of her new boundaries.

Interpreting a reference to the peace conference, a Finnish newspaper said this in no way implied negotiations with Russia.

VESTIGES REMAIN
(A recheck in Helsinki led to revision of an earlier version which quoted a Finnish source as saying that “military operations are drawing to a close as far as our country is concerned.”)

An English language broadcast on the Helsinki radio yesterday included a statement from a pamphlet published by the central union of Finnish labor organizations which included the following, to quote in full the most significant passage:

“Finland's war is purely defensive and it will come to an end as soon as the threat of renewed attack has been removed and her frontiers made inviolable.”

Another extract broadcast: “Our frontier cannot be finally determined until the coming peace conference.”

This, it was explained later, referred to a conference on the indefinite future and in no way implied negotiations with the Russians.

Former Spanish Premier Arrested

VICHY, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Francisco Franco's former premier, arrested today along with a woman member of his cabinet, at the request of Gen. Franco's government, which is seeking to bring about a formal convention with the Spanish civil war of 1936-37.

Castellano and the woman, Federica Montseny, were arrested at Crau and taken to Linares for a preliminary extradition hearing.

Farmer Injured Bull

Crushed against the barn door, a farmer was injured today by a bull on a farm five miles northwest of St. Albert.

The farmer, who was injured, was taken to the hospital with severe injuries.

The mishap occurred on the farm of a local farmer, who was employed by the local government.

Smith's ambulance made the trip to the Rose farm, being the injured man to the city.

341,000 Serbians Are Put To Death

ISTANBUL, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Officials of the Serbian Orthodox church have issued a written statement declaring approximately 341,000 Serbians, women and children, have been massacred in Croatia and Bosnia since the German occupation of Yugoslavia.

The church officials, now refugees from their homeland, said the Axis-backed Croatian government had murdered many Serbian babies and pressed and destroyed Serbian churches in Croatia.

Today's War Moves

By LOUIS F. KEEBLE
Copyright, 1941, by British United Press
JOSEPH Stalin called for the appeal for a “second front” to relieve the hard-pressed Russian army.

By so doing, he has not ceased the path followed by Winston Churchill and his advisers. The appeal was in a sense directed at the British people, among whom there has been considerable feeling for direct action now.

Renewed pressure of public opinion may be brought to bear on Churchill. It is likely to be stimulated by the last official admission that the danger of a German invasion, as shown by the recent travel restrictions to coastal areas.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM
Stalin's call for an appeal, but he went so far as to predict that opening of the second front is the only way to win the war. This has been no indication that Britain has changed her attitude, which is that a British invasion of Africa is the only way to win the war.

NEW WEST FRONT NOW UNLIKELY

Britain Not Expected To Change Stand Despite Stalin Statement

By BRUCE R. MOORE
LONDON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Responsible British quarters made plain today that Joseph Stalin's public assertion on the invasion of a second war front against Germany will almost certainly fail to induce the British government's plan on its vital military issue.

It was said that the statement of Lord Halifax, ambassador to Washington, recorded Mayor's statement in the House of Lords.

time. Another few months, another half-year, and the Russian and Hitlerite Germany must burn under the weight of her own crimes.

"Today's speech, broadcast over the Moscow radio, was addressed to the officers, workers, collective farmers and 'brothers and sisters in the enemy war' who have fallen under the yoke of German brigades."

FRANSES GUESSILLAS

"You glorious men and women guerrillas are disrupting the rear of the German invaders," he said.

"On behalf of the Soviet government and our Bolshevik party, I am greeting and congratulating you on the 14th anniversary of the Great Socialist October revolution."

He continued:

"We have to celebrate the anniversary in difficult conditions. We have to fight against a number of regions."

"The enemy has appeared before the gates of Leningrad and Moscow."

"The enemy calculated that after the very first blow our country would be dispersed, that our country would be forced to sue for peace."

"But the enemy badly miscalculated. Despite temporary reverses, we have not only held our ground but have inflicted heavy blows on the enemy attacks along the whole front, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy."

"Our country—our whole country—has organized itself as a single fighting unit in order to resist the enemy and to win the victory over the German invaders."

MORE DIFFICULT BEFORE

"There was a time when our country was in a still more difficult position."

"Remember the year 1918... At that time three quarters of our country was in the hands of foreign interventionists. We had temporarily lost the Ukraine, Caucasus, Central Asia, the Ural, Siberia and the Far East."

"We had no air force, no army... We had only just begun to create it—and we experienced a shortage of bread, a shortage of arms and a shortage of clothing."

"At that time it takes were pressing against our country, but we were not dependent... In the midst of the confagration..."

Sky Is Limit To Recruiting In Air Force

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—The recruiting drive for the Royal Canadian Air Force goes on, in spite of the fact that the sky is the limit.

This is the word from the Minister of Defense, Mr. Bennett.

"We will take the air crew all the way to the limit," he said. "We will take the air crew all the way to the limit, we will take the air crew all the way to the limit, we will take the air crew all the way to the limit."

ARE QUERIED ON VOUCHER PLAN

Candidates Questioned At Meeting

Mayoralty Candidates Deal With Utilities, Cost-Of-Living Bonus

the power plant sells power to it at a lower price than it sells to us, it would take a greater benefit.

Regarding the waterworks, there is no money made in selling water. The minimum rate is roughly $1.15 per foot. Then the property owner pays 10 cents for each lineal foot of his property, in perpetuity for the watermain past his house. For instance, if he has a 30-foot lot, he pays $5 a year. This collected by the city assessor and turned over to the waterworks. Last year this water service tax amounted to $140,000 and, had it not been for that, there would have been no profit in the waterworks department.

As for our telephone system, at present our telephone rates are 25 per cent lower than they are in any other place in Alberta. Now, the provincial government are supposed to be pretty efficient but their rates are that much higher than ours.

PECULIAR POSITION

But the telephone system is in a peculiar position—it operates under the law of diminishing returns. In other words, as the system is extended, the unit cost becomes higher. It costs more to install each telephone as we expand. And, when we have to change from a four-wire cable system to a five-wire system, or a five-wire to a six-wire system, it is tremendously costly.

So we have to build up a surplus to keep up with our rapidly expanding system.

On the power and light system, we make money, not so much on the distribution system as on the power plant. But when you check over all the charges against the power revenue and if you make the allowance for all the items that should be charged against it, you would see that there was very little over.

The profits on our system are not utility profits—they are monopoly profits. If we get a monopoly, at the gas company has to do, there would be little left.

But those profits which our power and light should be kept for the taxpayer. For whose property was pledged to build these utilities in the first place? Not the consumers. We are the taxpayers' property that was mortgaged to get the funds which built these utilities for use by the people. They should have a return to reduce their taxes.

(Replying to the question on acceptance by the city of provincial treasury vouchers: When the provincial government is prepared to deal with us on the same basis as we are prepared to deal with them, I will be prepared to consider accepting their treasury vouchers. But they demand full interest on the city bonds they hold and only pay us half interest on the provincial bonds we own. I have been chairman of the committee.)

man of the city sinking mud bound and I know what I am talking about.

Mayor John W. Fry (Independent, mayoralty): In Calder last night I was up referring to the pleasant relationship existing between the city and the civil employees. We have been able to restore the wage rate of 1920. We have put a pension plan in. At that point the chairman stopped me, before I could speak of the cost-of-living bonus. This is a very important question.

COST OF LIVING

Under war conditions the cost of living has been rising very rapidly and it has now reached a point where it is bearing heavily on all our people, especially the wage earners. Employees of many firms and institutions are already in receipt of a cost of living bonus, and it is an important question which the mayor and council will be called upon to deal with during the coming year in connection with their own employees.

My own view is that since practically all other wage earners are receiving a cost of living bonus, the Dominion government, as well as the provincial government, now has this question under advisement, sympathetic consideration must be given to matter of a cost-of-living bonus for the city employees. The first of the new year, as I undoubtedly will.

While some of the candidates may think they hope to do I feel that I can point, with some pride, to what I have accomplished since I have been mayor. Even those who despise me now say the administration of the city ever had. I would like to see a list of the things I have done in the last year. I would like to see a list of the things I have done in the last year. I would like to see a list of the things I have done in the last year.

The mayor then read several excerpts from the editorial, emphasizing such references as "amazing recovery" and "finishing work" and "the city has been a better city since 1934 must be regarded as a record." He then said in Edmonton's history.

And yet that very same Journal says that vote for Fry. I ask you why not vote for Fry in the face of "never a better civic report."

(Replying to the question on acceptance by the city of provincial treasury vouchers: When the provincial government is prepared to deal with us on the same basis as we are prepared to deal with them, I will be prepared to consider accepting their treasury vouchers. But they demand full interest on the city bonds they hold and only pay us half interest on the provincial bonds we own. I have been chairman of the committee.)

They say it is not desirable for the same mayor to remain in office so long. I would ask any business man if four years is too long to be the best man in the head of a firm when there "has never been a better report" at the business end of the city.

Why, a woman told me she has been taking milk from the same volunteer for 20 years and dealing with the same grocery store for 25 years. She said: "If they are giving satisfactory service why should I change?" I ask you that same question.

I would like to read you some-are signed by "Ted" Brown and Ed Griffin. Both are good labor men. And labor people know that I am fair."

To the questions asked all candidates replied that they were not doing fair work in the city.

His words then read the editorial that appeared in the November 4 issue, as follows:

The report of the city commissioners for the first nine months of the year is very encouraging. The collections of a heavy gain over last year, and an all-time record in a respect for the year's reduction. The sales of tax-reduced property are up more than 25 per cent. Building permits show a corresponding increase. Nearly 100 more dwellings are going up this year than last.

Gross revenues of the utilities show a gain approaching $500,000. There are increases at better than average rates in the number of telephone calls, light carried by the street railway and the city's revenue. The population has grown about 2,200. Street and other improvements for the year of revenue make the average pay-as-you-go betterment record about $100,000 per year since the debt extending plan went into operation five years ago.

The assessment table has gone up $140,000 for the year. Relief bonds have dropped to $140,000. The tax-rate is down to 51.5 mills, from 55 mills in 1938.

All this is evidence that Edmonton has turned the corner and is making definite progress, both as a business community and as a city. The utility earnings, tax collections and improved relief costs reflect the improved employment conditions. Larger building operations indicate growing confidence alike in the stability of the city and the industrial and business outlook.

It is a record for the city that has made millions of dollars from the farmers' tax cut.

I advocated packing plants. Council suggested a small experimental plant be built. I told them a small plant was no good, as it would be too small to compete. Then I suggested the laundry.

Then I suggested the laundry. Burns and Swifts. Now we have a packing plant business that is second to none in Canada and that has meant millions of dollars to the city. I have seen it all. I have seen it all. I have seen it all.

When I was on the street car tonight, some one said: "Well, you are running again for mayor. What are you going to do now and what did you do before?"

PROPOSED THINGS

I told him I had prevented a lot of things being done that were not in the best interests of the city. But I started me thinking back. I will go back to 1914. You may remember that it was in the fall of 1913 the "Pelican" did it. It was bold.

The Bulletin came out with a cartoon. The Pelican did it. I told him that the utility intended to steal the gas from you and they did it. The Pelican did

Poppy Day

On the streets tomorrow, and in centres throughout Canada, vendors will be offering for sale these little, often imitations of Flanders' poppies which are sold on the eve of each recurring Armistice Day. The sales should be large for two reasons. These artificial flowers are tokens of remembrance of the men who fell in the struggle which ended twenty-three years ago. Everyone who wears one of these badges of forgetfulness, if there were nothing else involved than showing regard for the memory of our honored dead, of that other terrible war.

But there is something else involved. These poppies are made by veterans who serve as a living reminder that the war was not a distant thing, but one that has turned so dissipated that they cannot follow ordinary occupations. In manufacturing the emblems these men find employment for those who are disabled, a life, diversion for their minds, and a way to earn a little welcome money. To them the war is a living reality, and they have built up a permanent industry whose success depends directly upon the nickels, dimes and quarters which people pay for the poppies on the one day in the year when these are offered for sale.

Wearing a Poppy is an act of grateful remembrance of the men who fell, buying one is an act of practical helpfulness to comrades who deserve the encouragement and assistance they can be given.

The Crimea

Blocked in the advance on Rostov, the Nazis in their drive toward the Caucasus have swung south into the Crimea. They have made better headway than they did in the Crimea, and seem fairly likely to over-run the whole peninsula. This of itself would do them little good, for the territory is neither extensive nor resourceful, and is of little prize. But the eastern end of the peninsula is only a few miles from the mainland, and if this waterway could be crossed Rostov would be within range, and the Caucasus region opened to the invaders by an alternative route—alternative, but less desirable because broken by the water-gate.

The Russians do not appear to have defended the Crimea as resolutely as they did in the Caucasus. They have a fortress of Sevastopol in the rear and the Black Sea fleet to help, they might have made a prolonged fight and caused enemy losses perhaps exceeding the 300,000 men who fell in the attempt to capture the peninsula. The inference is that the Russian high command would rather have the enemy drive toward the Caucasus off by way of the Crimea than by way of Rostov.

So long as the Russians hold this city their forces in the Caucasus are in touch with the armies farther north. And if the Red air force is concentrated at that sector, the enemy will have to pay a terrible price to get across the strait between the Crimea and the mainland. Based on the oil field, Russian planes and R.A.F. pilots, a sufficient number could make the Crimea a slaughter house from which few of the enemy would ever escape.

Twelve Divisions

There are now 110,000 Canadian troops serving outside Canada, not all of them in Great Britain. Estimated in the air force number 90,000, and in the navy upwards of 30,000. A total of 230,000 men enlisted to serve anywhere; in addition to units of the Active army still training in Canada and also available for use in any theatre where they may be required.

These figures, given in parliament by the Minister of Defence, deserve attention. They do not affect the fact that enlistments in the Active army are not keeping up to plans month by month. But they suggest one reason why new appeal drives to men must be kept going. The fact that the main power Canada is contributing to the forces arrayed against the Axis.

In the first Great Britain has no navy and no air force. There was only one fighting force in which men could enlist—the army.

Now those three services are competing for recruits. The air force and the navy, in part because they are new, appeal strongly to men between thirty years of age, the class of men who in the last war flocked into the army most readily and in the largest numbers. The army is thus in measure looking out to the air force and the navy. To this is due in some degree, undoubtedly a large degree, the difficulty of filling out the army ranks according to program.

There are enough men in the air force now to make up the complement of the divisions, and in the navy about enough to make up two. The impression that Canada has raised for overseas service only the six divisions which comprise our Active Army is wrong. There are enlisted in the three branches of our fighting force approximately twelve divisions; all eligible for service in any part of the world where they may be needed.

U-Boats Off Newfoundland

If any persons in Canada were surprised or alarmed to learn that Nazi submarines have been operating in the waters around Newfoundland, that is because the range and the number of these "rattlers" have not been correctly understood.

Given facilities—afloat or ashore—for refuelling, there is nothing to prevent modern submarines travelling any distance from their home ports and remaining away indefinitely. And certainly the world has been given proof that the Axis powers have enough of these vessels to make every sea dangerous to Allied and neutral shipping, provided supply bases can be secured.

Not is there anything unexpected in the prediction that some of these will be prowling off the coasts of the maritime provinces in the near future. That is the army which will be the most easily found, excepting the area on the other side of the Atlantic where the sea lanes converge toward British ports.

Herr Hitler is carrying his war to this hemisphere, despite the assurances of the Wehrmacht and the Luftwaffe that he has no designs here. He would be doing this if the United States navy had remained strictly inactive; his U-boats would be free to operate before the "shoot on sight" order was issued.

Hitler knows, if the isolationists do not, that between the order of things he is trying to establish and free government there can be no peace anywhere. He is not content with not simply because he wants it, but because the world cannot exist half-slave and half-free. He must dominate everywhere if he is to dominate Europe.

That is why his submarines are lurking in the coastal waters of this continent: not just to show his resentment at Roosevelt or his defiance of the United States navy. They are here because the channels to the Atlantic better near the ports from which these sail than out in the middle of the Atlantic.

Edmonton people have the satisfaction of knowing they over-subscribed their community chest objective by a higher percentage than the residents of any other city in Canada. The minimum sought was $86,700. The minimum ran to nearly $101,000. This is a fine tribute to the generosity of the citizens, the effective organization of the campaign, and the interest shown by Canadians in the world war. It is a cause as caring for the world as a distinction any city might well covet.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1891-50 Years Ago

The Abbott-Chapman difficulty has been settled. Chapman remains resident of state until December 1. He is appointed lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, when he will leave the Interior. He will be minister of agriculture. Angers comes in later as minister of public works.

It is understood that Tarte has resigned from this city. His forces in the Caucasus are in touch with the armies farther north. And if the Red air force is concentrated at that sector, the enemy will have to pay a terrible price to get across the strait between the Crimea and the mainland.

Dr. Gauthier, late of St. Albert, has opened an office here. He is the murderer of President McKinley, paid the penalty exacted by the law for his crime. He was executed.

1911-30 Years Ago

Pekin: Thus far there has been no fighting in this vicinity. The revolutionary headquarters are at Shanghai.

Constantinople: Turkey has abandoned negotiations with Italy and is planning war on a scale never before attempted by Turkey.

Cities of Edmonton: A quarter of a century ago, Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant of Toronto is the Minister of the Presbyterian Church in Toronto. Ontario Liberals adopted a policy of "banish the Axis."

President, C. C. Rogers completed his transatlantic flight, landing in London.

ing that misleading impression to go forth the President has quite gratuitously given the Nazi propaganda an opening which it has not expected.

Hostilities, in the sense of shooting, began on May 21, 1941, when a German submarine sank the Robin Moor, a half-way between Africa and South America.

The Robin Moor was an unarmed American merchant ship, not travelling in the convoy bound for Capetown and other African ports. The Robin Moor did not refuse to stop and did not resist visit and search.

When the Robin Moor was destroyed, the German government was forced to acknowledge the loss of the ship. The ship was a half-way between Africa and South America.

The action of the submarine commander has never been disavowed by the German government. It was an effort to be made in the name of the German people.

It was a result of a violation of the neutral rights of Denmark, Norway, the Netherlands, and other neutral countries.

For it must never be forgotten that France was conquered and Britain placed under the German yoke. Hitler broke the law of nations and destroyed the world.

Had Hitler observed the law of nations, he would not have attacked the Robin Moor. He would not have destroyed the ship.

right. The fact that the German government did not disavow the act, but sought to justify it, established conclusively that it was a deliberate act of aggression.

compelled America to enact lend-lease laws. Hitler's refusal to observe the laws he had himself agreed to was a deliberate act of aggression.

Hostilities, in the sense of shooting, began on May 21, 1941, when a German submarine sank the Robin Moor, a half-way between Africa and South America.

The Robin Moor was an unarmed American merchant ship, not travelling in the convoy bound for Capetown and other African ports. The Robin Moor did not refuse to stop and did not resist visit and search.

When the Robin Moor was destroyed, the German government was forced to acknowledge the loss of the ship. The ship was a half-way between Africa and South America.

The action of the submarine commander has never been disavowed by the German government. It was an effort to be made in the name of the German people.

It was a result of a violation of the neutral rights of Denmark, Norway, the Netherlands, and other neutral countries.

For it must never be forgotten that France was conquered and Britain placed under the German yoke. Hitler broke the law of nations and destroyed the world.

Record Player Turnover
Due In Baseball Trading

By PAUL SCHEFFEL

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(BUP)—That annual drama of the diamond, "the meeting of the majors," which usually turns out to be a compromise between simple friendship and earnest baseball conning, is not scheduled for public showing until just after the turkey meets the axe but trade talk grew to such volume today that a record player turnover may be confidently forecast for next month's convulse.

Sound-playing team and individual player performances for the past season is a favorite winter activity for all baseball devotees but an attempt to analyze in advance any detail of the diamond that might be engineered by such left turners as Larry Macphail of Brooklyn, Branch Rickey of St. Louis and Jimmy Dykes of Chicago, is strictly a gamble.

Here's a snap survey of the trade table worked out for the major league clubs for Dec. 1-31.

DODGER NEEDS

Dodgers—Babe Phelps and Luke Hamlin sure to go with Cookie Langston also mentioned for the block. Macphail is after another outfielder, more catching strength and a southpaw pitcher.

CARLINS—Loaded with talent. Manager Billy Southworth again faces a hard job figuring out to run loose rather than who to buy.

Reds—On a perennial hunt for sluggers left-handed, and may shake out. Outfielder Jimmy Gleason, who hit only 23 last season.

Pirates—Willing to part with Lee Handley, Arky Vaughan or any other club to nab one of four players.

Giants—Need plenty. Giants—Scheduled for a terrific rebuilding job all around Hot after Lee Handley of Pittsburgh or Bob by Braggs of the Cubs.

Cubs—Expected to rebuild from end to end with youngsters but willing to bid high for players who can hit big league pitching.

Braves—Believe Shortland Eddie Miller can and may bring big money in the ivory mart. Reason he may go is acquisition of Philan Fernandez who led the Pacific Coast hitters with 41.

Phillies—Magnificent for all other clubs trade advances. Have tempting material in pitchers Podgajny, Horst, Hughes and Pearson. Infielders Danny Murphree, Bobby Bragan and Nick Eiken and Outfielder Danny Litchfield.

Yankees—President Ed Barrow says his club may stand pat but Yankee Stadium has always had a heavy hitter on first base so Johnny Smith may go.

Red Sox—Believe Tom Hawkey now Joe Cronin will talk about changes but Jimmy Fox has slipped and may not be back. A little added pitching talent would put them in the contenders class.

White Sox—Jimmy Dykes sincerely added by club's sports showing in September. Luke Appling reported on the block but he can't Wright are the team's only 300 hitters and that's what Dykes needs more than anything else.

Tigers—Pitching, pitching and more pitching. In infield left by Charlie Gehringer's retirement to be filled.

Indians—Even the manager's status is in doubt here. With Bobby Feller classified as A by his draft board, pitching will be big concern. Brown—Second base and shortstop chief weak spots.

Sentors—Barber bids open on pitcher Ken Chase and Vernon Kennedy and outfielder Doc Crumpler with a return influx of infielders called for.

Athletics—Catcher Frank Hayes named most often in proposed swap. Need outfielder to replace Sam Chapman who scheduled to join the A.L. at New York. Figure to single for Roy Weatherly of Cleveland.

Dizzy Still Dreams of Chucking

"Me and Paul" Through With Major League Ball

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 7.—(AP)—That famed hard act—the "Me and Paul" of some of baseball's greatest triumphs—will be seen no more in the major leagues. But the more volatile half of the act may try again with his "high hard one". Dizzy Dean is thinking about a comeback. Daffy Dean is through with baseball. You can take Dizzy's word for it.

Dizzy is a radio announcer in St. Louis when he isn't taking things easy on his farm near here. He is interested in a contemplation which he thinks can bring life to his selling arm. He's going to visit Hot Springs, Ark., in January where the machine-an electric contrivance will be used for all its worth. If Dizzy finds his arm can be cured, he will try pitching. Then, maybe, a comeback.

But first he'll get approval from his radio sponsors.

"They've been too awful to me to try to be any other way," says Dean. "I'll be at his best, well-oiled, 140-curve farm where he leads the life of a country squire."

PAUL SETS

But Daffy—or Paul—has other ideas. Daffy says Paul owns a farm across the county from Dizzy and he's doing all right for himself.

Paul was with the New York Giants' major. New York passed him on to St. Louis, which planned to send him to the Pacific Coast League.

"But Paul didn't want to go out there to work for $700 a month," says Daffy. "You know Paul never did want to play baseball, even when he was a kid."

"I wouldn't want to return unless I felt I could pitch like I used to," Daffy declared. "There wouldn't be any money in it just to be a 15 game winner."

"And I'd want to know that every time I pitched my arm wouldn't feel like it was going to drop off. It isn't worth the price when you have to pitch like that."

HEAVY MIDDLE

Dizzy is getting a little heavy around the middle and his hair is streaked with gray although he's only 38—two years older than Paul.

"I like here on the farm," Daffy said. "No telephone ringing, no cars whizzing by. And I like radio announcing too. I just sit in a little room all by myself and tell folks what's happening down here on the field. And I like idea, too. Most of my listeners are for the home team and they like it when I root for them."

Rover Migration Apparently Okay

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Major Gen. L. R. Laflèche, subordinate deputy minister of National War Services, said last night that advance information regarding his department indicated only one of 14 members of New York Rover hockey team which left Canada last week was in the Eastern United States Amateur League is of military age.

"That man, according to my information, definitely is in medical category," Gen. Laflèche said. "The War Services department is awaiting a 'complete report' on the incident. The 14 players and coach of the Rovers crossed the United States border Oct. 26, after leaving Vancouver."

Rest of Ranger Roster Complete

REGINA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Unsettled only over the goalkeeping job, Regina Rangers completed their roster Thursday night and announced themselves ready for action in the 1941-42 Saskatchewan senior hockey league.

Last year's Allan Cup champions, Rangers' first test comes Saturday night when they play an exhibition game with Calgary Stampede of the A.B.C. League at Calgary.

The match will be followed by three other exhibitions in Alberta—at Calgary and Lethbridge—before Coach Ode Lowe brings his club home to await the first league game here Nov. 19.

Capture of forward Johnny Kennedy, who was with the upturning last spring, rounded out the Regina club. Now at his home in Red Deer, Alberta, Kennedy agreed to join the team in Calgary Saturday.

Herbie Burton is also on roster from Winnipeg. He will be on the team when Rangers start their Friday night in Regina and will continue on to the Alberta city.

GOT A GOALIE?

His manager, Pat Norris said he is in the market for a goalie to replace slacker Jimmy Henry, who has gone to the National League New York Rangers.

At present only Howie Biegan, bespectacled Edmonton junior, is working out, as Gordie Heming is still with Hamilton.

"I tried to land Steve Blumkin of the current season's Regina but he has settled down in Swift Current where he has a permanent job and is unable to come out here. I'd like to get a line on a first-class melinder."

On defense, Rangers are evidently ready to stand by Garth Bush of last year's club. Jack Tamm, a former professional, Jim Calder, former Regina junior who has been in Ontario, Jack Dagnall, young Regina product and Bob Powell of Swift Current, last year's western Canada intermediate champion.

IMPRESSIVE FORWARD

Six forwards seemed assured of places on the lineup. One string consists of Johnny Chud and year with Chicago Black Hawks of the N.H.L., Sammy Saperstein, with Trail Smoke Eaters last year and Al Kunkin, a regular with Rangers last season. The other three Vince Germain from Herby of the American Hockey League, Herbie Burton from Herby of the Sea Hawks in the Pacific Coast League last year and Johnny Kennedy.

These are the athletes picked to gain places with Staples of Kindred and Al Powell of Swift Current favored to catch remaining forward line berth. Coach Lowe has large numbers of candidates working out.

Rangers drill again today before Lowe selects the men to make the Alberta team.

Girls Basketball

Two games will be played in tonight's session of the City Girls Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium in 10th street.

The first is at 8 o'clock and will be between the Normal and the V.W. teams and the other game will follow when the St. Mary's high school girls meet the Spruce Grove visitors. The games are open to the public.

There is no class session on game fishing in Alaska and no license is required.

Canadians Must Prepare To Care For Starving People

Scars Of Malnutrition

Will Last Generations After Present Conflict

Canadians must be prepared in post-war years to take care of the millions of people in various degrees of starvation, and the future generations who will bear the scars of malnutrition and under-nourishment resulting from the present conflict, Dr. M. Cantor, of the University of Alberta biochemistry department, told a meeting of the recently-organized Consumers' League of Edmonton in the I.O.O.F. hall, 103 street, Thursday night.

The main speech of the evening, Dr. Cantor's address was based on vitamin problems and nutrition.

Dr. Cantor stated that deficiency disease is endemic in this nation because a large percentage of the population has not the means of buying food for an adequate diet and because foods which are available have been refined and processed without regard to the effects on nutritional factors.

CRITICAL ERA

"What makes the problem of general deficiency particularly pertinent at the present time," he said, "is that this nation is at war, and an ill-fed nation is a sick nation and cannot be expected to fully organize all its capacities for a full-out effort."

"There is no question in my mind that Germany has for some years now fostered considerable research for preserving food without destroying its nutritive value."

Tag Day Will Be Held Saturday For Soldiers' Poppy Day Drive

A total of 738 families of returned soldiers were assisted in many varied ways by funds received from last year's Poppy Day sale, according to figures released by the board of trustees of the Canadian Legion Poppy Day Fund.

Proceeds from the sale of wreaths and poppies amounted to $2,705.34. After campaign expenses and the cost of wreaths and poppies were deducted, most of the balance was spent on food and clothing for the needy families.

A total of 344 cases received food, 13 received clothing and footwear, 21 and transportation assistance and 138 others received miscellaneous help. Nearly $2,000 was spent in assistance of these 738 cases.

The fund has a total of $40,933 in the bank as a carry over from previous years' campaigns.

M. M. Downey is chairman of the Poppy Fund board of trustees. J. H. Van Slyke, secretary-manager of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.L., is campaign manager for the Poppy Day campaign.

Valid Ballots Must Be Marked With A Cross

If you do not want to spoil your ballot on election day, Wednesday, November 13, the following simple rules will help:

Ballots must be marked with a cross (X). Voters must only cast votes for the number of candidates on the different ballots. This means that only one "X" must be placed on the mayoralty ballot, five on the aldermanic board ballot, and one on the public school trustees ballot.

Election workers names are not on the voters list cannot be sworn in at the polls. In the case of property owners whose names have been inadvertently omitted from the voters list, certificates may be obtained from the city assessor which, when presented to the deputy returning officer of the poll in which the elector resides, will enable him to cast his ballot.

North Alberta Farmers Stand For $1 Wheat

About 1,200 farmers of north-east Alberta passed unanimously a resolution asking that the price of wheat be $1 per bushel for the northern at the terminal, at a mass meeting held in the Empire theatre all day Thursday.

The resolution was introduced at the farmers' assembly by William Pelletier, Calgary, and was approved by the Alberta Wheat Pool. Discussions and voting on it took place as the first time of business during the afternoon session.

Before voting the farmers were made to understand that the request for $1 per bushel was in the form of an emergency measure.

RESOLUTION PASSED

Another resolution asking that as a long range policy the farmers' request be $1 per bushel for the northern at the terminal, while in the north-east at point of shipping, for the first 100,000 bushels of the crop was tabled indefinitely.

It was argued that such a request at this time of emergency would confuse the situation with respect to obtaining results from the first.

Chamber Seeks Clarification Price Ceiling

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce will back the Montreal board of trade and other trade bodies in the Dominion in their efforts to have the federal government clarify the recent order-in-council establishing a price ceiling over many commodities in regular use.

A meeting of the wholesale section of the Edmonton chamber, union of the Edmonton chamber, J. H. Storie, met Thursday afternoon and discussed the price ceiling order-in-council, No. 827.

A telegram from the Montreal board of trade, asking for the body's objections to the regulations as they now stand, also was discussed.

The Edmonton wholesale section should state to the manufacturers and sources of raw materials and the chamber here wired the Montreal trade body to notify the government as to the effect it would have on the Dominion government and will endeavor to have a representative go from here.

Sgt. Frank Hazlett Missing Overseas

Well-known city athlete, Sgt. Frank Hazlett, R.C.A.F., 25-year-old son of G. W. Hazlett, 11111 11th avenue, has been reported missing after air action overseas, according to word received by his father Friday. Sgt. Hazlett graduated from the Edmonton N.A.S. air training school and had just completed an extensive course overseas.

The airman had been engaged in air operations about five weeks. He has been overseas since May, enlisting from Edmonton. The airman was born here and attended Garneau high school. He took an active part in golf and basketball and was a member of the Y.M.C.A. here.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Nutrition experts predict a greater prevalence of malnutrition after the war. What steps should be taken now to cope with the problem?

THE ANSWERS

GEORGE HENDERSON, business Diet facts should be disseminated. They can be most helpful unless the diet followed is on advice of a doctor.

B. L. WILLIAMS, chemist: The two big problems facing the nutrition experts appear to be lack of nourishment among the poor and lack of common sense among diet fastidious. It is an education problem and an education campaign is needed. Authorities in both these fields are not doing coping with the situation as effectively as circumstances permit.

HERBERT NICHOLSON, secretary, The problem of malnutrition is almost completely a social problem. An uplift of standards of living, especially among the poor in urban centers, will no doubt walk a considerable distance in the threatening situation that may arise after the war. Though the situation is less grave in rural areas due to the general prevalence of milk and fresh vegetables, there are many families who are deprived of other such nutrition necessities as fresh fruits due to the low economic status of the western farmer.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Does the modern woman, when her country is in danger, say to her soul "Let George defend it. You stay at home and do your own thing?" Instead of emulating the Spartan mother who adorned her son to come back from battle with his shield or on it?

I ask these questions with fear and shame because I am told by those who are in a position to know that the chief thing that is the matter with the morale of the draftees in our army camps is the constant bombardment of discouraging letters from home to which they are persecuted. They are being snubbed in the tears of their mothers and wives and sweethearts until they have at last reached the point of giving up. It is not that they are more important to them to get back to their mothers' apple pie and Saturday night dance than it is to see freedom for the world.

If you should call these women traitors, they would utterly resent it, but no fifth columnist ever betrayed his native land more thoroughly than they do when they take the heart out of the boys who are being trained to defend their country, making them believe that the job isn't worth their while.

Our danger is not from the brown youth of the gentlemanly type in the boys' camp. They are being befriended and escorted by a general and a colonel. They are being made to feel that they are going to make time and their charming recognition in the country. So, if nothing, because dear, kind Mr. Dix is here and would be his best friend if he took us over.

What we need to fear is the snubbing voices of the mothers and wives and sweethearts who mean that that they are so important without their darling tomatoes that they have nobody to take them to the movies, and who tell them that their best girls are going out with other boys, and that Jim Jones and Sam Smith have taken their places in the bank. It is feeling a very, day after day and week after week, on home.

What To Do

made those that send his spirits down to sea and makes him want to throw up his hands and quit.

The only excuse that can be offered for the women who write these depressing letters to their sons and husbands and sweethearts who are in training is that they do not realize how great is the crime they commit, not only against their own men, but against their country. For when you take away from a man his motive, you have paralyzed all of his incentive to action, and when you tear down the ideal he has lived by, you leave him nothing to worship. Make duty, responsibility, freedom, patriotism, nothing but mere words, and there is nothing left in the world worth fighting for or dying for.

GLORIFIED DOUGHNUTS
Here's a quick dessert that takes practically no time at all to combine. Split doughnuts and generous glaze of whipped and lightly sweetened cream, and sprinkle with raisins, small chocolate, grated or chopped nuts.

SLAW
How about combining dried apples, chopped walnuts, and finely chopped cabbage in a cole slaw? Mayonnaise thinned with a little pineapple juice holds it together.

What we need to fear is the snubbing voices of the mothers and wives and sweethearts who mean that that they are so important without their darling tomatoes that they have nobody to take them to the movies, and who tell them that their best girls are going out with other boys, and that Jim Jones and Sam Smith have taken their places in the bank. Brown Rice Has Valuable Vitamin B

By MISS GAYNOR MADDOX
Mrs G. Matthews of Prince, which asks for a rice ring recipe, and a RICE RING

Mix 4 cups cooked rice with 1/2 cup melted butter. Press into just lined square ring mold. Set in pan of hot water until thoroughly heated. Turn out on serving dish and fill centre as desired.

Mrs. Matthews wants other inexpensive recipes for rice, so I'll turn to the new edition of the Boston Cooking School Cook Book.

Take on Count 4 a long step back on right foot. 2—Make quarter turn left, placing left foot to side of left. 3—Close right foot up to left. To complete Square repeat.

You dance faster, you are, than in the regular waltz. You and your partner rotate rapidly about another.

Learn the other smart waltz variations, too. On 25-page book, let has diagrams to show you these as well as the popular rumba, Congo, Latin, fox-trot, Waltz, and shag. Tells how to dance gracefully, lead and follow.

An extensive tour of Britain, member of a party of newspapermen from Canada. Mr. Gerrie told many different ways in which the people of Britain are tightening their belts and curbing their appetites in order to put more behind their effort to defeat Hitlerian.

Eags are extreme luxuries and cigarettes, tobacco and matches scarce, Mr. Gerrie said. In London two pieces of butter about the size of a 25-cent piece and not much thicker, are served with each meal. Sugar is also smaller than they are here, he said.

Black is a well known local figure. He is a senior hockey coach at Oids for several seasons before going to his last year. He is now in his senior year at the University, where he is a graduate of Earlwood school.

Mr. Gerrie told his 345 pledges were issued in 22 fraternities in 1960. Black's chapter was installed at the University in 1960. It was the first at Hamline University, St. Paul.

Mr. Gerrie told his "big sister" home of Jennie Morris, the daughter of the Princess Paul of the first world war. Mr. Gerrie is a veteran of the war and was in the Canadian Pacific's Canadian Light Infantry.

Scores Of Young Americans Cross International Boundary To Join Dominion's Armed Forces

Each week scores of young Americans cross the international boundary to enter Canada and enlist in the Canadian forces. These three, left, Harold Maythan, Buffalo; Norman Curtis, Pittsburgh, and Albert Hagen, of Philadelphia, are shown receiving special permits from Supervising Inspector William Paterson before entering Canada at Niagara Falls. Hagen and Curtis are pictured, centre, walking across the bridge from the U.S., while three future Canadian soldiers are shown, right, filling out their applications for entry into the army with Pte. George Thomas, of the Irish Regiment recruiting staff, looking on.

Making binoculars of his hands, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill studies the effect of anti-aircraft gun fire during a practice session at a London defence post.

Here are two closeups of the damage done to the destroyer U.S.S. Kearny which was struck by a torpedo.

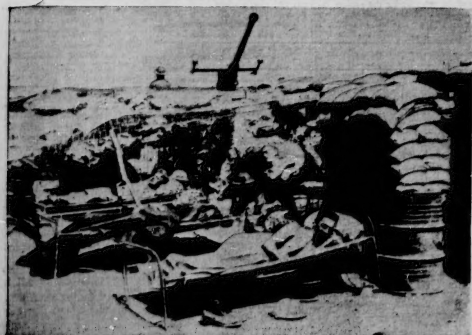

Capt. Gillis Purcell, above, former general superintendent of The Canadian Press and since 1940 public relations officer with the Canadian Corps in England, lost his leg when a supply canister dropped by a plane during manoeuvres which he was watching in England, broke from its parachute and struck him.

Red Twins Of Death—To Blast Huns

According to the official Russian caption with this photo, these wicked looking torpedo tubes are ready for action in the "naval theatre of war." It does not reveal whether this theatre is the Baltic, where the Reds have been harassing Nazi shipping, or the Black Sea, where the Soviet navy has helped block the German drive toward the Dardanelles.

Defenders Of Tobruk Relax Between Raids

Besieged in Tobruk for many months, these boys look as if the experience is agreeing with them. They are Scottish anti-aircraft gunners, knocking off 40 winks between Axis raids. The cots on which they do their napping were captured from Italian posts. Despite many determined attempts of German and Italian forces to capture this Libyan coastal position, the small British garrison continues to hold out because the British navy keeps the seaway open.

Twice As Bright

As if in answer to aggressor dictator powers who now have invaded nations squirming under their boot heels, the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor holds high her torch at dusk. Torch is to be made twice as brilliant.

New Carrier Stretcher

R. J. White, leader of an Isle of Wight air raid precaution rescue party, is pictured demonstrating his new invention. It is a new stretcher balance which finds its own centre of gravity and then locks to keep it. The stretcher can be slung and still keep correct balance. White believes that with this new invention he could prevent further injury to the patient. It has its advantages in being very light and strong and can easily be manipulated.

Armored Train Moves To Front

This picture shows a Soviet armored train moving toward the front line. Machine-gun operators in the foreground keep their field glasses trained on what might be German planes.
